

Make a gift to build the next generation of opera fans

Layla, a 9-year-old opera fan from Atlanta, Georgia, began watching Met performances when she was just three years old. She has since enjoyed over 37 operas at her local movie theater, thanks to the Met's Live in HD transmissions. Layla even started a club called the Kids Opera & Art Posse to introduce her friends to opera. The nine members of the Kids Opera & Arts Posse, all of whom saved their allowances to become Met Members, attend almost every Live in HD transmission together, and even have a trip to New York City planned where they'll see their first opera at the Metropolitan Opera House.

It is the mission of The Met: HD Live in Schools to introduce children, like Layla, to the magical world of opera and help this extraordinary art form thrive by building the next generation of opera lovers. Please consider a gift to support this important program today. Thank you.

The Metropolitan Opera

HDschools@metopera.org

metopera.org/education